Which He Denounces De

The enthusiasm shown in the Tenth Ward Republican club meeting was greater than in any other meeting held this fall. The speech made by George Clapperton was received with great applause, and every mark of apprecia-

Mr. Clapperton said he congratulated the club on the enthusiasm and spirit which had thus far kept it in active operation. He hoped the work of the club would roll up a big majority for the republican party in November. This work for political principles is the highest duty of Americanship. This is a government for the people and by the people. The ballot box is the only pace where the American voters are able to express their will. It is the institution before which the servants of the people tremble. At the ballot box all are equal.

The Highest Privilege, As election day approaches the president of the United States will leave the the city of Washington and go to his home in Indianapolis and on election day he will take his place by the side of the workmen and will exercise the same power in shaping the future pros-perity of the country. To cast a ballot is the highest privilege of American citizenship. He did not see how a man could study the history of the United States and not be a republican. The four parties had made their platforms and had chosen their standard bearers for the campaign. They were asking for the votes of the people. The prohibition party has the virtue of being consistent in sticking to its principles but it is not in it. The populists are fast fading away. They are disappearing down the throat of the democratic tiger. In a new years at most there will not be a people's party voter in this state. The great fight will be between the two great parties. The issues between these parties are not new. The ground has been fought over many times. Grover Cleveland set the pace of the democratic party four years ago in his great tariff message but he is trying to get away from it now. The republicans accepted the issue four years ago and won the battle placing all tackers of the government into the hands of the republican party. The question to settle is should the good guidance of Benjamin Harrison be continued or should Grover Cleveland and his ruinous policy be replaced in cover.

Compared All Platforms.

Mr. Clapperton read the platforms of the two parties and compared them. He showed that the prosperity of the country under the McKinley bill has been unexampled in the history of the nation closed with an exhortation for all to stand by the candidates of the party.

Alvin Swartout followed with an arraignment of the democratic state administration. He said the democratic senate could be convicted of the crimes of treason and robbery. He state. One at Detroit, one at Jackson. crimes of treason and robbery. He spoke of the expense of the last legislature. He denounced the gerrymander of the state. He said no one but a political charlatan would have laid off the judicial ermine to enter the lists for office of governor of the state.

Mr. swarthout then went back in history to show that Alexander Hamil-ton, the founder of the old republican party, was the real person who suc-ceeded in putting the federal govern-ment on its feet. He said Thomas Jefferson was an advocate of the doctrine of nulification. At least the Virginia and Kentucky resolutions penned by Jefferson expressed the very ideas derived by the act of nullifica-tion of Calboun. The speaker told several stories that pleased the audience greatly. He was followed by others and the meeting adjourned.

ELEVENTH WARD REPUBLICANS,

Frank Rodgers and Charles Watt Address a Rousing Meeting. The largest and most enthusiastic eveningmeeting of the Eleventh ward republican club was held last night in White's prohibition at Silver Lake, Monday hall. A large number of women were evening. present, and the hall was prettily de-corated with flags and bunting. Pic-tures of republican candidates adorned the walls, and every seat in the hall arrangements for meetings in their quartet entertained the meeting with sough. The club was called to order by Chairman Chamberlain, and after the preliminary business of the control of the c was occupied with attentive listeners. different localities. was transacted, he introduced the first speaker of the evening, Charles A. Watt. Mr. Watt said the men who are at the head of the national tickets are men who have occupied the same places before and are men whose characters have been preity well examined.

All has been said against Mr.
Harrison that can be said and he United Brethern church, South Lowell, notwithstanding. The democratic party has resorted to every means possible to secure the defeat of the republican The party. It has swellowed the green-Shepps party. It has awallowed the green-back party, and has got the peoples' rty very nearly down. With that rty any man who is opposed to the sublican party is a good enough demperss. In the democratic party there can be found men of all opinions on the tariff question. There is David Bennett Hill, who is a protectionist, Henry Watterson, who is a free trader. and Grover Cleveland, who doesn't know what he is. The speaker hand-led the tariff question in a plain and argumentative manner. From the

that if his party nominated Grover Cleveland it would be led from the slaughter house int: the open grave. It was time. He said the same thing at the last convention and the result of four years ago will be repeated. The verdict in this campaign will be agreed upon around the firendes by those who are interested in the protection of the homes in this country. The general apathy of the republican party at the last state election is responsible for the democratic government that we have today. It is indirectly responsible for the infamous legislation of the squaw-buck legislature. If the wages of lab-ring men in New Y rk have been increased under the McKinley bill, as is stated by Peck's report, the same con-dition of things exist in Grand Rapids. The democratic party scared the people by talking ab at the billion dollar republican congress but the democratic congress spent $40,000,000 more than the billion dollar congress. You and an Art. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Martha Strickland lectured on parliamentary law as an art and a science, the Ladies' Literary club rooms being filled with an attentive audience composed of members of the club and of the St. Ceceins society. Mrs. Strickland reviewed the origin and growth of the parliamentary law and then considered it as a science, a science which is governed by changing conditions as art and other sciences are, none of which are exact sciences as they follow the outgrowth of human life. New conditions demand new laws. Mrs. Strickland's address showed a masterful comprehension of the subject and it was handled in a way that was both logical and eloquent. At the close announcement was made that a A republican meeting will be held at Alton next Wednesday. Judge Perkins and the Hon. M. L.
